Dear Friends,

We like to think of NCJW as the go-to organization in Sacramento where passionate and compassionate women come together to live their values through activism, advocacy, and service. And we continue to be amazed and inspired by the energy, resourcefulness and talent that surrounds us.

Thank you for your contributions, involvement, and support. We've accomplished so much this year! And yet, there is still so much need. As we look ahead to 2022, we are excited about the impact we can continue to have together. We are continually called to tikkun o'lam – repair the world – in our community and across the state.

Our advocacy, education, and community service activities have earned us the reputation of “the little Section that could – and does – make a difference”. We are committed to keeping expenses to a minimum, however, we have ongoing costs to keep the Section operating, including administrative and tech support, insurance, website expenses, and bulletin printing and mailing. Please help us continue our important work by making an end of year contribution anytime before December 31st!

Wishing you and yours a healthy, peaceful, and normal new year.

Warmly,

Eileen Jacobowitz, President, NCJW Sacramento
Sheila Wolfe, Vice President, NCJW Sacramento
