

National Council of Jewish Women
Sacramento Section

NCJW's mission is to advance social and economic justice for all women, children and families. We achieve our goals through Advocacy, Community Service, Education, Community Organizing and Leadership Training.

It is the time of renewal; to either join or renew your membership in NCJW*.

As a member of NCJW Sacramento, you help to provide services and advocacy for issues important to women, children and families.

NCJW gives you the opportunity to:

- turn your passion into action as NCJW women have been doing for 125 years
- advocate for local and statewide laws to secure reproductive rights, women's equity, immigration, racial justice and more
- act on projects to empower those most vulnerable including homeless women, foster youth, immigrants and human trafficking survivors
- learn about today's issues from experts and thought leaders
- be part of our ongoing, local, intergenerational effort to impact Sacramento and beyond
- do all the above with fun, motivated, thoughtful, like-minded women.

NCJW Sacramento makes change happen. Join us! Let's do it together.

Members receive invitations to a broad range of local events and a hard copy of our newsletter, The Bulletin.

If you would like to join or renew by mail, please clip and send the form below along with a check payable to NCJW to: NCJW Sacramento, P.O.
